LEWIS' JESSICA KELLIHER NAMED 2019 RON LENZ NATIONAL PLAYER OF THE YEAR

RUSSELLVILLE, Ark. | On Monday, the Division II Conference Commissioners Association announced Jessica Kelliher, from Lewis University, as the 2019 Women's Basketball Ron Lenz National Player of the Year as she headlined the All-American selections. The NCAA Division II sports information directors from institutions and conference offices voted for the teams.

Marissa Brown from West Liberty; Alexy Mollenhauer, from Anderson; Hayden Priddy, from Southwestern Oklahoma State and Mikayla Williams, from California-San Diego, joined Kelliher on the First Team.

Kelliher became a two-time First-Team D2CCA All-American as she averaged 24.3 points and 9.9 rebounds in leading the Flyers to a 27-5 record. She led the country in field goal percentage, 65.9 percentage. She finished her career having scored the fifth-most points in DII history 2,770. She also surpassed the 1,000-rebound milestone during the season.

Brown helped the Lady Hilltoppers return to the NCAA Tournament for the first time since 2016. She ranked in the top six in the country in scoring, 24.4 points per game; rebounding, 13.0 per game and blocks, 114. She has made more field goals, 328, than any other player in Division II in the last three years. She tallied 21 double-doubles.

Mollenhauer guided Anderson to its first 30-win season since 2004-05, as she produced 22 double-doubles, the second-best total in the country after she notched a total of two in her two seasons. She grabbed 369 rebounds, the fifth-best total in the nation. She also made 80 3-pointers. No DII player with at least 80 3-pointers registered more than seven double-doubles.

Priddy paced the Lady Bulldogs to a 33-1 record and their first appearance in the NCAA Division II Elite Eight. She earned the Most Outstanding Player award for the Central Regional. She averaged 17.4 points and 3.6 assists per game in moving into second on the GAC's all-time lists in both categories. At the Central Regional, she averaged 21.7 points and shot 46.2 percent from the field.

Williams led the Tritons to an undefeated regular season and a 30-1 record overall. She topped the California Collegiate Athletic Association in scoring, 19.9 points per game; field goal percentage, 54.9 percent and double-doubles, 16. She averaged 10.5 rebounds and 1.7 blocks per game. She also converted 80.9 percent of her free-throw attempts.

The Division II Conference Commissioners Association All-America and All-Region Basketball Teams are sponsored by the Division II Conference Commissioners Association (D2CCA). The teams are voted on by the members of D2SIDA, NCAA Division II Sports Information Directors Association.

The Division II Conference Commissioners Association encourages and promotes Division II athletics and high standards of sportsmanship as important elements of higher education. The CCA is a key communications link among the conferences as they discuss views, policies and regulations that impact Division II intercollegiate athletics and works closely with the NCAA as a communications channel to NCAA Division II member colleges and universities.
